

Participation

The Carinthia Women's Health Centre is inviting women and girls as well as specialists to actively co-create offers and measures beneficial to women's health. Our target groups' participation as experts is a quality assurance measure to improve equal opportunities for women and girls in terms of health. To meet the specific health requirements of women in all life phases, environments, and styles, we apply and/or provide to you various types of participation.

Please feel free to send us your suggestions and ideas by e-mail at any time or tell us about them in person.

Of course, you may also, at each of our events, take the opportunity to let us know – in complete confidence, using a questionnaire – the topics on which you would like the Carinthia Women's Health Centre to provide information or support or to organise events.

On a regular basis, we will invite you to join themed rounds of talks, conduct surveys, or establish focus groups where you will be most welcome to participate and share your experience and know-how on the subject matter.

Should you ever discover or personally experience any shortfalls in treatment of or discrimination against women and girls in health care, do not hesitate to contact us, in confidence, as your interest representative.

Our activities focus on the health of women and girls. This is why the Carinthia Women's Health Centre has been commissioned to implement women-specific measures for health promotion and disease prevention. Implementation of these tasks (see <http://www.fgz-kaernten.at/12865.htm>) is based on the Austrian Health Promotion Act (österreichisches Gesundheitsförderungsgesetz), the National Strategy for Public Health (Nationale Strategie öffentliche Gesundheit), the quality criteria for women's health centres in Austria (Qualitätskriterien der Frauengesundheitszentren in Österreich), and the guidelines for subsidy agencies of the Carinthia Women's Health Centre.

Based on these guidelines, we collaborate with speakers, institutions, and interns who are interested in integral, women-oriented health promotion using evidence-based methods. In order to work with each other, we need to understand each other. Therefore, you are required to be able to communicate in German on competence level B1 (see <http://www.europaeischer-referenzrahmen.de/sprachniveau.php>).

If your profile matches these criteria, we look forward to receiving your informative application as speaker or intern.

The Carinthia Women's Health Centre advocates an unprejudiced working environment and aims at diversity among the women it employs. We feel enriched by the pluralism (different origins, ethnicities, religions, lifestyles, sexual orientations, ages, and (dis-)abilities) of our employees, speakers, and interns. Thus, we would be especially pleased by applications that take this aspect into account.
